Why Madeira is so Iconic?

Madeira Island is unique as a destination, with a diversified offer, following the latest trends and expectations of the most demanded international travelers.

The Island offers a sub-tropical climate with gentle winters and mild summers, providing a perfect and well balanced climate all year around

The unique geographic morphology of the Island, with its high mountain, deep valleys, steep cliffs, and a world heritage exuberant forest and vegetation, covering almost 2/3 of the Island, really emphasizes its undeniable beauty and Nature strand. Which all together grants the perfect scenario for all sort of leisure and sport activities.

Why Madeira is so Iconic?

The Island offers a rich culture and an amazing historical heritage, which testimonies such as, churches, monuments and Noble families country states "Quintas", are found in small villages and also scattered along the island.

The local Gastronomy also seems to be very appreciated, consisting in a combination of fresh regional products and traditional recipes. Madeira Island is very rich in seafood, fish and also known for wide variety of exotic tropical fruits.

Although the table wines only recently started to get some notoriety, the world famous Madeira Wine has been exported worldwide for centuries and it can be tasted at one of the many wine lodges scattered around Funchal downtown. Presently considered one of the safest destinations worldwide, the capital Funchal is also among the cleanest cities in the world.

Climate

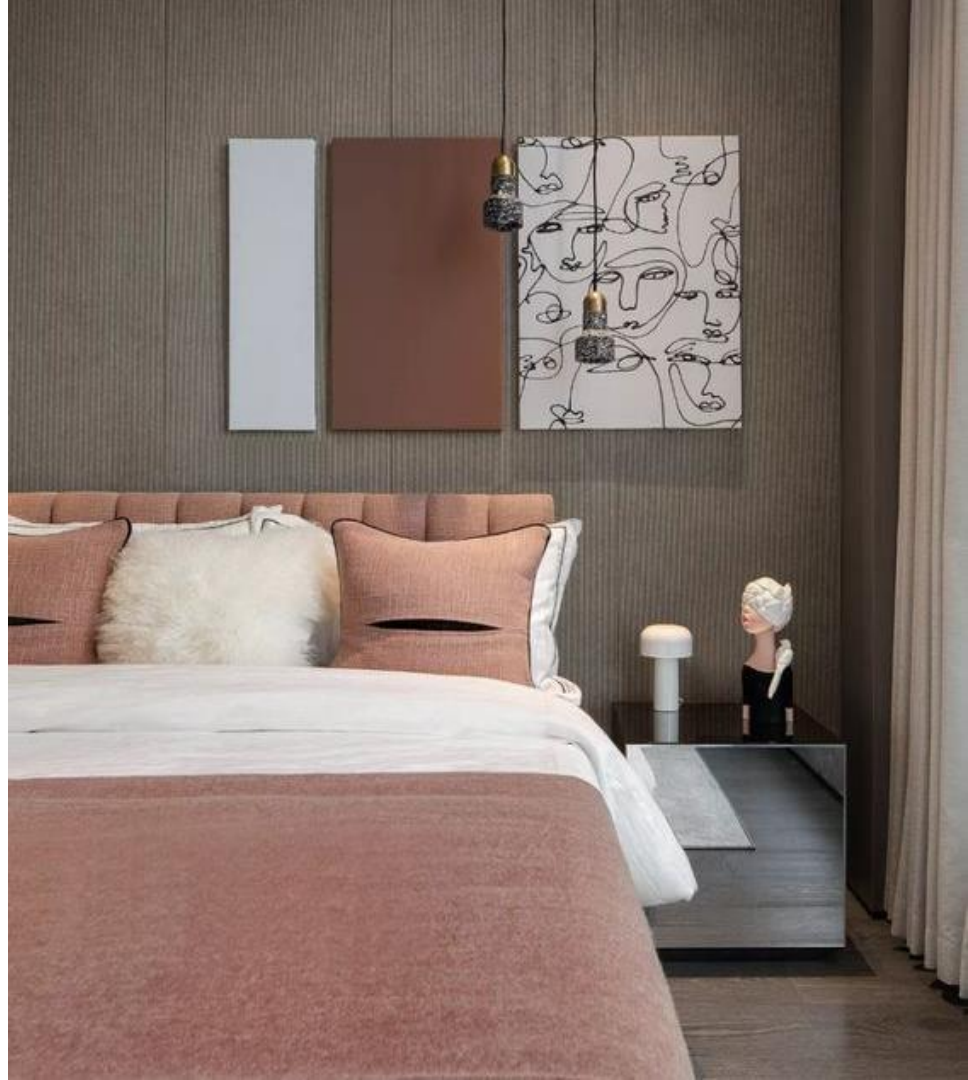

These islands, because of their privileged geographical position and mountainous relief, have a surprisingly mild climate. Very mild average temperatures, 22°C in the summer and 16°C in the winter, and a moderate level of humidity, confer upon these islands exceptional subtropical features. The seawater temperature is also very mild, because of the influence of the warm Gulf current, presenting averages of 22°C in the summer and 18° in the winter.

Group Activities

A Memorable Tour

City Highlights

Discover the hidden charms of the city through the renown Old town, then winding its way to the charming market “Mercado dos Lavradores”, where ladies dressed in typical costumes sell the exotic flowers produced on the island. On the lower floor the smell of fresh fish attracts clients to see the ‘catch of the day’, where the “espada” - black scabbard fish is the most popular. Next stop is at the lace factory where one of the most famous handicraft in the world is made. Last but not least, a visit to one of our wine lodges will delight our guests with the different kinds of Madeira wine. From the driest to the sweetest all turn common occasions into a special one. Now we’re going to appreciate the beauty of Madeira by taking the cable car to Monte. For the more adventurous of the group, we suggest descending on the legendary toboggan.

The Panoramic East

Camacha & Santana

Driving up the mountain we reach 'Pico do Arieiro', the second highest mountain from the island (1810m). Ribeiro Frio will be the next stop. In the heart of the 'Laurissilva' forest, a gorgeous garden surrounds the trout hatchery. From here you will have the opportunity to make a short walk to "Balcões" (1h30 walk) to enjoy the magnificent views over the deep valleys surrounded by steep mountains. At the end group will have the opportunity to taste a typical drink «Poncha». Finally, we arrive at Santana, probably the most typical village on the island, where still today some of the peculiar thatching roof houses can be found. Stop for Lunch.

The last stop is at 'Machico', a town built between the mountain and the sea, actually the 'birthplace' of the island. The place where the Portuguese sailors arrived for the first time in 1419.

Enchanting valleys

Eira do Serrado & Curral das Freiras

This half day excursion leads to Pico dos Barcelos at 1100 ft above the sea level, from where one can get a fantastic view over the town, bay and surrounding hills.

A twisted road, bordered with eucalyptus reaches Eira do Serrado (lookout point) overlooking "Curral das Freiras", a peculiar village built in a deep valley, taken for centuries as the crater of an ancient volcano. At the end the whole group will be taken back to the hotel.

Jeep Tour

Not far from Funchal hidden in between high mountains and deep valleys lie remote villages and hamlets such as Jardim da Serra with its splendid view over the Nuns valley. Locate another world by joining us on a Land Rover tour with panoramic views, interesting places and sensational encounters with Madeira 's natural heritage.

Jeep Tour Route:

Funchal, Fajã das Galinhas, Boca da Corrida, Jardim da Serra, Quinta Grande, Cabo Girão, Câmara de Lobos.

The World of Blue

Whale & Dolphin Watching

This is a unique opportunity to be both out in the open water and to get very close to sea life. The boat sits low on the water (inflatable boat) so guests will be close enough to touch the dolphins swimming all around.

A marine biologist accompanies the group and provides interesting stories about the animals and their ocean habitat. Lookouts are strategically placed on mountains overlooking the sea and direct the captain to dolphin and whale locations for optimal viewing experiences.

What an unforgettable experience!

Optional Activities

Hiking on top of the hill

Pico Areeiro to Pico Ruivo

Hiking to the summit of Pico Ruivo, Madeira's highest point, from its second-highest point, Pico do Arieiro, is a stunning and beautiful way to spend a day on this glorious island.

With a wonderful view, this trail has the peculiarity of connecting two of the highest peaks of Madeira Island, the Pico Ruivo (1862m) and the Pico do Arieiro (1818m), traveling to that part of the area of the Central Mountain Massif.

Between some ascents and descents, it is important to arrive at Pico ruivo where you will find a steep ascent along hundreds of steps carved inside the rock and a meticulous descent. This is a suitable trail for lovers of flora and fauna and physical challenges.

Our adventure ends when we drop you back off at the meeting point, thrilled and satisfied at having conquered the highest point on the island and seen the best this special place has to offer.

For Nature Lovers

Levadas

For nature lovers, walking alongside a levada is one of the most unique experiences to have while staying in Madeira. “But what are levadas?”, you may ask.

These are man-made channels created to carry water for irrigation of agricultural fields around the island. But such watercourses are not unique to Madeira: what is unique is their accessibility and extent. You need only venture a little way off the main roads to begin to appreciate Madeira’s myriad aqueducts - for their beauty, ingenuity of design and for the courage and determination needed to bring the concept to its present glory.

Follow the water channels and let yourself be guided through the breathtaking landscapes of mountains and abysses.

Pure Adrenaline

Coasteering

It is a relatively new sport, which is progressing along the zone between the tides of a rocky shore, using the swim, climb, rappel, jump into the water and walk.

Coasteering is a recent activity in Madeira, where you will find the best spots for practicing this sport, because it combines the surroundings of natural protected area with the blue and green of translucent waters and magnificent rocky escarpments that plunge over bays and coves that characterize this landscape.

Into The Wildlife

canyoning

Let us take you on a thrilling adventure by crossing the canyons of the “Madeira Laurissilva Forest”. Our voyagers will have to climb, jump, rappel, swim, cross waterfalls with a rope and mountaineering equipment in order to complete this mission.

Before starting this quest an in-depth briefing and skilled guide will be done. (this activity requires a high level of fitness)

Important note: guests must take their swimsuits

Ocean Experience

SUP

SUP or Stand Up Paddle Surfing is a new worldwide booming sport. Through this new activity, we intend to provide a different view of Madeira Island from a sea view perspective. The tours are held in the sea with SUP Boards, wherein you may access the local beauty and lush landscape, often merely limited to other vessel types.

This is an activity that is gaining adherents, to be fun, easy to learn, and a complete physical activity.

SUP is an excellent workout option of fitness, since it allows to strengthen the arms, legs and abdomen. The practice of SUP also improved the balance and concentration.

End of the Island

Ponta São Lourenço walk

Visiting some of the finest cliff scenery on Madeira, this walk explores the long thin peninsula at the eastern end of the island. The paths are good but undulating - whether you get close to the edges is up to you. The trail follows S. Lourenço Point, the eastern-most peninsula of Madeira island. In the sea, you may be lucky enough to spot the world's rarest seal, known in Madeira as a Sea-wolf (Monachus). At the end of the trail, at Sardinha port, speed boats will be waiting for the group to ride back to Funchal. On the way back it is very probable that the group will spot the ocean's while life as whales, dolphins or orcas.

Wood Fire Cooking

Casa das Espetadas

Location: Funchal

Located 100 meters from the hotel Vidamar, the Casa das Espetadas Restaurant specializes in traditional Wood Fire cooking with Madeira Folklore and Fado entertainment. The food is certainly worth travelling for, and many people do. The attraction is a combination of a local meeting point, the Islands favorite Poncha (Local traditional drink) and a menu that keeps on giving. The one price menu is definitely a draw, while local Madeira produce is championed relentlessly – an impressive roster of local suppliers is clearly visible. Traditional eaters go for the classic beef espetada, Chicken, tuna, pork, or other seasonal specialties. The islands favorite Bolo do Caco (local traditional bread with garlic butter) is made in front of your eyes and cooked next to the open wood fire. Don't miss the traditional folklore and the popular Fado.

On the fishing village

Vila do Peixe

Location: Camara de Lobos

We can start with aperitif in one of the bars of the heart of Câmara de Lobos. Then group walk to the restaurant that overlooks this picturesque fishing village with its many colorful fishing boats docked in the harbor.

The restaurant reflects the best traditions of grilling the day's catch by the sea. Using only the freshest of fish, it is prepared in the simplest form (with rock salt and a little olive oil), and grilled over the open fire embers.

The environment is a mixture between modern and rustic, providing a very unique atmosphere. A large room, decorated in wood and dark-brown, gives access to the open kitchen area, where everything is done under the view of the customer.

An unforgettable evening full of new experiences!

On the top of the cliff

Estalagem Ponta do Sol

Location: Ponta do Sol

The best way to define the concept that lies behind the Estalagem da Ponta do Sol is the idea of an escape hotel.

It is set on the top of a cliff – a more spectacular location is difficult to imagine. The hotel is a result of the renovation of an old “quinta”, and the goal was simple: to integrate the original buildings in a distinct, contemporary style.

The architecture enhances the beauty of an already beautiful place and the atmosphere is simple and relaxed, yet sophisticated.

In the north coast

Quinta do Furão

Location: Santana

Open since 1993, the restaurant has an indoor and outdoor area with an outstanding view of the sea and mountain. Indoors, the rustic ambience, big windows and two enormous fireplaces give a special welcome to guests. Outside, there is a sheltered veranda and another area where you can opt to have your meal in the sunshine.

The menu offers a balanced blend of typical Madeira gastronomy and international cuisine, tending to use organic and local products.

VENUES

Unique & Special place

Blandy's Wine Lodge

The lodge was bought by John Blandy in the mid-19th century and not only was it an extremely valuable property.

Each one of the Lodge's rooms has its own character and due to the differing temperatures and humidity, the wines all have differing ageing profiles based on their location.

The Vintage room is the cathedral of Blandy's rarest and oldest Madeira wines, where wines dating from the beginning of the 20th century can be tasted, such as Blandy's Bual 1920.

Today the Blandy's Wine Lodge is the heart of the family's wine business where over 650 barrels and vats are stored, ageing the finest of the family's wines in the traditional canteiro method.

There are 3 rooms for private events, a museum and a special room for wine tasting experiences.

Dinner in an Islet

Design Centre Nini

The Design Centre Nini Andrade Silva is located in the city of Funchal at the emblematic building known locally as “Molhe” – Fortaleza da Nossa Senhora da Conceição, which was once the home of Gonçalves Zarco, an old Portuguese sea navigator and colonizer of the Archipelago of Madeira.

The Design Centre Nini Andrade Silva is a place of meeting and sharing - a laboratory of ideas - with a unique spatial valences, such as a permanent exhibition area, shop, cafeteria and a restaurant on the top with gorgeous views over the bay of Funchal.

The restaurant unveils smells and flavors in a relaxed merger between well receiving and the reinventing of the Portuguese cuisine.

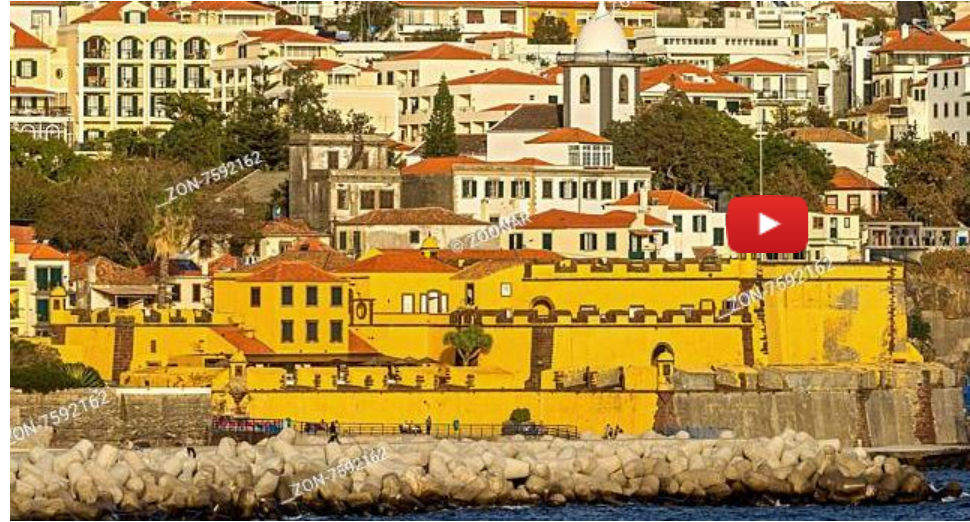

A Dazzling Wonder

Forte São Tiago

A Farewell Dinner in the outstanding 17th century São Tiago Fortress is a must in the Madeira Island, featuring a mind-blowing view of the Funchal Bay as well as the old town area. Their menu incorporates a creative and delicate international cuisine that blends perfectly into the surroundings. Thus making this delightful evening into unforgettable memory of Funchal's wonders.
